FEMA to help protect Davis Park

And replace treatment plant outfall pipe

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Mid-December flooding, which caused hundreds of thousands of dollars in damages in the Bethel area, also took a bite out of land and infrastructure near Bethel's Davis Park.

The floodwaters, fed by four feet of snow and five inches of rain, eroded several feet of riverbank behind the park and destroyed the nearby outfall pipe of the Bethel Wastewater Treatment Plant.

The cost of repairing the damage — and reducing the chance of even more expensive problems in the near future — is now estimated at a little over $200,000.

Fortunately, the Federal Emergency Management Agency has agreed to pick up three-quarters of the tab. And Bethel selectmen agreed Monday that the town had little choice but to come up with the balance.

Meeting with the selectmen Monday, Mark Allenwood, of Weston & Sampson Engineers, reviewed the scope of the damage and outlined the proposed solutions.

Behind the park, and just downstream, about 200 feet of riverbank was washed away, Allenwood said.

Erosion at the site, which is on the outside of a sharp bend in the river, is not just a result of the December flooding, he said.

"If anyone's been watching the erosion down there over the last couple of years, it's been pretty significant," Allenwood said.

He estimated that in the past year alone, 10 to 25 feet of land between the park and the river has disappeared, threatening the long-term survival

Second sewer rate hike looms

By MICHAEL DANIELS

For the second year in a row customers of the Bethel sewer system are looking at a double-digit rate hike.

Last year the rate increased by 10.73 percent; this year it is set to go up by another 12.5 percent, if selectmen approve the budget draft currently under consideration.

The two increases have been driven largely by debt service on capital improvement projects, Town Manager Scott Cole told the Board of Selectmen Monday.

Such rate hikes are hardly the norm for Bethel sewer users.

The rate held steady in the five years prior to last year's increase, and Cole projects "worse case" increases of only 1.5 to 3.5 percent for the coming four years.

Those increases could be even less if more new customers come on the system.

"Basically, the only way to keep a check on sewer rates is to add customers," he told the board.

Debt service makes up over a third of the Sewer Department's "core budget," Cole said.

West Paris boy dies in SUV rollover

By ALISON ALOISIO

An 8-year-old West Paris boy was killed and three other boys were injured last Friday in a one-vehicle crash on the Tuelltown Road in West Paris.

State Trooper John Hainey said the 16-year-old driver lost control of a 1988 Toyota 4Runner on a sharp corner on the dirt road. The SUV overturned on its side, striking a tree.

Killed in the crash was Tristan Peltier of West Paris. His 9-year-old brother, Anthony Peltier, was taken to Stephens Memorial Hospital, as was the driver and his 12-year-old brother.

The three injured boys were taken to the hospital by two ambulances — Pace and Tri-Town Rescue. Their conditions were not life-threatening, according to police.

Hainey said the driver was a boy from West Paris, whose name is not being released until a decision has been made on whether charges will be filed against him.

The trooper said the teen

After soggy start Andover's 200th ends with lots of smiles

By ALISON ALOISIO

Marchers in Saturday morning's parade got wet, but Mother Nature beamed down on the events that followed last weekend at the Andover Bicentennial celebration.

An estimated 2,000 people were on hand at the height of the three-day celebration, said Roger Mills Jr., chairman of the Bicentennial Committee.

Andover was originally incorporated as East Andover on June 23, 1804.

People attending the weekend celebration enjoyed events that included a carnival, street dance, concerts, hot air balloon and skydiving demonstrations, and plenty of food.

Heavy rain during the parade dampened participants, but not spirits. "Aside from everyone getting wet, it went well," said Mills.

A highlight Saturday was the opening of a time capsule buried on the common during the town's 150th anniversary celebration in 1954.

Mills' father was the chairman of that celebration, and when the capsule was opened, Roger Jr. found a ledger from him that gave an account of the events in 1954.

In addition, there were many letters and photos from

Large subdivision proposed for Merrill Hill

By ALISON ALOISIO

A preliminary plan for an "upper end" development of approximately 75 house lots, to be located on Merrill Hill in Newry, was presented to the Planning Board last week.

The 460-acre site would be accessed from the Monkey Brook Road, which leads to the Jordan Bowl area of Sunday River Ski Resort.

Merrill Hill Development LLC, based in Florida, is planning the project.

All the lots would be larger than two acres, with some ranging between seven and 15 acres, according to engineering consultant Joe Aloisio, who made a conceptual presentation to the board.

Most of the lots would be designed for single-family homes, but there would also

A BEAUTIFUL DAY

To the Editor:

It was a beautiful day in our neighborhood — sunny, breezy and bright. This longest day of the year, June 20, Father's Day and the Summer Solstice, was one to celebrate, and we did. Many, many thanks to all those who helped make the Midsummer Festival such a wonderful day: Conni and Ted St. Pierre, Dick Taylor, Jim and Carrie Sysko, Jonathan and Kate Goldberg, Jack Nordahl, Betsy Cooper, Jewel Clark, Marie Hickey, Eric Paul and Groan & McGurn, Monica Mann, Timberlake's Home Store, the Bethel Citizen, the Bethel Police Department, all of the sculpture race participants, and so many other helping hands. And extra special thanks to Woody Hughes for the joyous pottery trophies and to Arla Patch and Jim Owen for being sculpture race judges. We are grateful to Gould Academy and to the Bethel Library for the use of their facilities for special events, and to the Town of Bethel for use of the Bethel common and gazebo. Without the generous sponsorship of the Mahoosuc Arts Council and The Maine Community Foundation the Midsummer Festival would not have been possible, and we thank them both. In addition, the following individuals, businesses and organizations have been banner supporters, and we celebrate you: The Bethel Inn and Country Club, The Outlook, Vickie Irons, Rosie D. Trentham, Dick and Wendy Penley, Josiah and Joanna Drummond, Seabury and Sharon Lyon, Dick and Sally Taylor, Sue Ellen Richardson and Douglas Topper, Carrie and Jim Sysko. It was a beautiful day in our neighborhood. Thank you for being there.

FOURTH OF JULY COMMUNITY PICNIC

To the Editor:

Every year since 1993, the Bethel Historical Society has sponsored the Fourth of July Community Picnic held on the grounds of the Dr. Moses Mason House, which continues a tradition established by Dr. Moses Mason in the 1850s when citizens of Bethel and the surrounding area gathered in his orchard on the Fourth of July for a picnic, patriotic orations and brass music.

Today, this event has become, in some people's opinion, "the highlight of my summer," "my favorite Bethel event," or something to that effect.

In addition, the society's Regional History Center has also been selected this year as the location of another brass music event when on Saturday, July 31, 26 members of the Yankee Brass Band, dressed in 1850s era firemen's uniforms, will play authentic 19th century music with Civil War era brass instruments (sax horns, cornpeans, cornets, ophicleides, and over-the-shoulder altos, tenors, and basses) on the grounds of the Dr. Moses Mason House (weather permitting) or at the West Parish Congregational Church (if rainy). This concert is expected to last approximately one hour and a half. The members of this band come from throughout the United States, represent all walks of life, and share a passion for early band music. They gather at Colby College during the last week in July and play in several Maine and New Hampshire communities.

To offset the expenses of these two events, contributions are being solicited from anyone interested in bringing these remarkable groups to Bethel. Tax-deductible donations can be made in any amount and sent to the society at P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012. Further information can be obtained by calling the society at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910 or checking the Web site: www.bethelhistorical.org. All contributors will become sponsors unless they wish to remain anonymous. Let's make July in Bethel a special place for brass music.

ALDER RIVER GRANGE 145 TURNS 100

To the Editor:

Members of Alder River Grange 145 will celebrate their Grange's centenary of existence on June 27 with a special program open to those interested in attending. Area Grangers and several state officers are expected to be in attendance.

Festivities will get underway at 4 p.m. with a social hour followed by a chicken barbecue, historical slide show, and dance featuring the music of the Richard Felt Orchestra.

Alder River Grange 145 was first organized in the mid-1870s, but surrendered its charter in the early 1890s. It was re-organized in June 1904 at Locke Mills (beside Alder River, thus its name) at the Mount Abram Hotel which stood across from the present Round Pond Corner Store. State Grange Deputy W. S. Larabee was in charge of the meeting. Its charter was issued by the National Grange on June 27, 1904.

Since many of the organizers of this Grange were East Bethel people, it was decided on July 8, 1904 to build a hall on land donated by James Madison Bartlett of East Bethel.

A building committee consisting of Fred B. Howe, Eugene Bean and George K. Hastings was appointed. Funds for the construction were raised by card parties and suppers. Work on the building began in April 1905 and the structure was first used, according to the late Eva M. Bean, for a supper and dance on Nov. 16, 1905.

Since that time, the hall has served as a community center for East Bethel with countless dances, parties, socials, card parties, receptions, school reunions, classes, etc., in addition to Grange functions.

Measuring approximately 52 by 24 feet, the hall was first wired for electricity in 1929. There was also once a stable in the back that was later moved to the Hastings' farm in the 1930s.

During World War II, twenty-one members of Alder River were serving in the armed forces out of a total membership of sixty three. The Grange paid the dues of all those serving their country.

Probably the greatest period of Grange activity was in the 1950s when the order was heavily involved in community projects and improving the hall.

During this time, Alder River won several state and national awards for such projects as maintaining the East Bethel Cemetery, painting and repairing the East Bethel Church, providing milk for the East Bethel School lunch program, and building a new kitchen and shed for the hall.

Since 1979 when the 75th anniversary was celebrated, the Grange has observed its incorporation anniversary every five years. Improvements to the hall have preceded each anniversary and there has been new members added as a result.

In 1904, the first officers of the Grange were: master, Frank Abbott; overseer, Henry Edson Bartlett; lecturer, James Swan; steward, Eugene Bean; assistant steward, Orlando Farwell; chaplain, Lizzie Bartlett; treasurer, May Farewell; secretary, Hester Kimball; gatekeeper, Edgar Swan; Ceres, Linnie Abbott; Pomona, Carrie Bartlett; Flora, Nina Swan; lady assistant steward, Jennie Swan.

Today, members serve the community in various ways. In addition, the Grange supports a number of charitable organizations, holds public suppers and special events, and sponsors an agricultural exhibit annually at the Fryeburg Fair.

Repairs

of the parcel of land on which the park sits.

If nothing is done, he predicted, even by next year the river would be cutting into the park itself.

"If you wait until next year, it's a crashshoot on how much of the park you're going to lose," he told the selectmen.

Outfall pipe

Just downstream of the park December's floodwaters also washed away a 30-to-40-foot length of the 12-inch pipe that carried effluent from the wastewater treatment plant.

The pipe now ends at the riverbank, discharging its effluent there.

This is a problem because the plant's license from the Maine Department of Environmental Protection calls for the effluent to be diluted by a factor of 200 to one, as it was when the pipe ended near the middle of the river.

But at the riverbank, where the pipe now ends, the dilution factor is only one-to-one. If the stipulated dilution factor is not re-established, Allenwood said, DEP would impose stricter — and more costly — requirements on the operation of the plant.

(Note: the treatment plant's effluent is already highly diluted. Each liter of discharged water contains approximately 3 milligrams — or .0001 ounce — of solids, according to treatment plant operator Rob Gundersen.)

Solutions

Simply replacing the washed-away section of the outfall pipe would not be a long-term solution, Allen-wood said.

If the pipe is replaced but the bank is not stabilized "there's a pretty good chance that [the pipe] is just going to wash away again, just because of the way it's left hanging out there."

To resolve the problem, FEMA has agreed to pay 75 percent of the cost of ripraping a total of 350 to 400 feet of riverbank upstream of the pipe.

That's a longer length than eroded in December, Allenwood said, but "that's what's really going to stabilize it."

The second part of the solution will be to replace the pipe, but redesign it to run below the riverbed and cover it with riprap.

The total cost of the work is estimated at $201,000, with $150,750 to come from FEMA and $50,250 from the town.

Of that total figure, $115,000 would be for the riverbank stabilization, $80,000 for the outfall pipe replacement, and $6,000 for construction inspection.

Tight timeline

If the work is to be completed this year — as Allenwood strongly urged — things will have to happen fast.

DEP regulations limit bank stabilization activities to low-water periods of summer, which means the project would have to be designed, permitted, approved by voters and contracted in time for work to begin in August or September.

After that the weather gets iffy.

"Once you hit the middle of October, and definitely when you hit November, you're going to have some serious rains — it's almost like our rainy season," said Reggie Brown.

Stan Howe was a bit more optimistic about the weather, and willing to wait in order to be sure the board had a firm price tag when presenting the projects to town voters.

"I'd rather gamble on the weather and be sure of the cost," Howe said.

"And I've seen the river really low in October," he added later.

The projects are expected to go to voters sometime late in the summer.

In the meantime, to kick start the process the selectmen agreed to spend $7,250 from the Sewer System Development Charge Fund to pay for design work.

There was some discussion regarding the propriety of spending SSDC funds on such work, since by ordinance they are to be used only for increasing the capacity of the treatment system.

But there was general agreement that increasing the current dilution factor met that test.

"Without question, with the lower dilution factor, the pounds of pollutants you can discharge to the river will be significantly reduced, which means the capacity will be reduced," Allenwood said. "There's no question [the work] affects capacity."

Dresser agreed, "I think we're on really solid ground," he said.

Briefly

Gray moves on, Clark moves in

NEWRY — A changing of the guard will take place a week from today (Thursday) at the Newry Town Office. Administrative Assistant Sylvia Gray, who has worked for the town 15 years, will retire. She will be replaced by Loretta Berry, who currently works as deputy town clerk. Berry will in turn be replaced by Anita Clark of Newry, recently hired for the position. Gray attended her last selectmen's meeting Monday, and was thanked by the town officials for her years of service.

Help plan the park

GREENWOOD — A Park Start-Up Committee meeting will take place June 30 at 6:30 p.m. at the Town Office. Voters recently approved the purchase from Maggie Ring of 84 acres of land, to be turned into a park. Anyone interested in volunteering for the committee is welcome to attend.

Motorcyclist dies in crash

HARRISON — A Norway motorcyclist was killed last Wednesday when he lost control of his bike on Route 117. Mike Bottomley, 49, failed to negotiate a curve, according to a Cumberland County Sheriff's officer. Police are investigating whether speed or alcohol were factors in the crash.

Donations for gazebo sought

PARIS — The Western Maine Veterans Advisory Committee is seeking donations to build a 10-by-12 foot gazebo at the new ball field at the Veterans' Home on High Street. The gazebo will be presented to the home to add to the activities and pleasure of the residents. The ball field was constructed last year by the facility. The field will be used for area baseball and soccer teams. Contributions may be sent to Phil Meserve, 52 Park St., Mechanic Falls, 04256, or to the Maine Veterans Homes at 477 High Street in South Paris, ME, 04281. Checks should be made out to WMVAC.

More moose warnings

AUGUSTA — For the second time in two weeks, State Police are warning motorists of wandering moose on the highways. Overnight Sunday, two moose-vehicle collisions in southern Maine damaged two tractor-trailers and two cars. The Chief of the State Police, Colonel Craig A. Poulin said motorists driving at night need to be extra careful, because this is the peak season for the animals to be on the move. Poulin recommends motorists slow down, using their high beams as much as possible and to keep a watchful eye out for the animals. The two latest collisions took place on I-295 in Freeport and on the turnpike in Litchfield. Poulin said the crash in Freeport was the most serious. He said a tractor-trailer struck the moose in the southbound lane, near the Brunswick town line, and the impact pushed the animal into the passing lane, where it was then struck by a car and a second tractor-trailer. The car overturned, but the driver escaped serious injury. The moose collision on the turnpike took place in the southbound lane of mile 94 in Litchfield, and involved a car. There were no injuries. Two weeks ago, there were four moose collisions on the turnpike in the same night. The Maine Department of Transportation has published a brochure entitled "Moose: Danger Ahead," which is available from their Web site www.maine.gov.dot.

Canoe trek begins July 5

REGION — The ninth annual Androscoggin River Source to the Sea Canoe Trek will take place from July 5 to 24, beginning at the Magalloway River, north of Lake Umbagog. The trek, which will end in the Atlantic Ocean, is organized as a series of day trips along the river. Pre-registration is required for participation in any of the river segments. For more information call 527-2916, e-mail trek@megalink.net or go to www.androscogginriver.org.

NRC highlights global warming

PORTLAND — The Natural Resources Council of Maine has begun a campaign it says highlights the effects of global warming on people around the state. The council also has suggestions for how Mainers can conserve energy. Rodney Hall, a maple syrup producer, says the sugaring season begins a week earlier than in his grandfather's days. And Connie King, who runs Lost Valley ski area in Auburn, says her business is hurt by global warming. She says the lack of natural snow keeps people from thinking about a ski outing. The council says that using energy efficient appliances and renewable power sources can help reduce the effect of global warming. Council members also encourage citizens to talk with state and federal lawmakers about curbing pollution and encouraging efficient energy use.

Watch for electrical wires

AUGUSTA — Painting and construction season is underway, and Central Maine Power Co. is reminding contractors and homeowners to take extra safety measures when working near power lines. The utility points out that the coating on some power lines — particularly service cables to homes — is not a safety insulation to protect workers from electrical shock. Accidentally touching any CMP conductor or fittings either directly or with tools and equipment carries a risk of serious injury or death. Central Maine Power offers the following tips for staying safe at a job site: 1) Plan ahead. Check the job site for hazards, and be sure to look up for power lines and electrical equipment. 2) Call CMP for a safety inspection. Trained CMP personnel will check equipment and insulate exposed conductors and fittings that might pose a risk. 3) Keep workers, tools, and equipment at least 10 feet from unprotected power lines and fittings. It's for safety, and it's the law. 4) Maintain 10-foot clearance when positioning ladders. Carry ladders horizontally around job sites. Also maintain 10-foot clearance when using scaffolding, hoists, or cranes, and when raising the bed of a dump truck. 5) Don't touch a crane or dump truck operating near power lines. Touching the equipment will put a person in the path to ground if it accidentally contacts a power line. 6) Call 1-888-DIG-SAFE. Utilities will locate and clearly mark underground facilities so workers can stay clear and work safely.

Beware of grant scam

AUGUSTA — Attorney General Steven Rowe has warned against callers who claim Maine consumers are eligible for a government grant, and all they have to do is pay them $250 in order to receive it. "These government grant calls are just the latest variation on scams that claim you are eligible for money, but in order to get it, you must pay," said Rowe. Once the caller gets someone's interest, the caller asks for money or a credit card or checking account number. Some of the callers claim to be representing organizations that can help obtain government grants for an advance fee.

CLARIFICATION

Telstar grad: An article in last week's Citizen about the Mahoosuc Arts Council's Adirondack chair fundraiser should have said Callin Kavanagh is a graduate of Telstar High School.

From the Bethel Police Log:

He stopped the truck, and a license check showed the driver had a warrant for failure to pay fines. He also had three active suspensions. In addition, the registration plates for the vehicle belonged to another vehicle. Allen J. Scott, 45, was arrested for the warrant. He was charged with OAS and illegally attached plates.

At 5 p.m. Chief Alan Carr responded to an accident involving three motorcycles on the West Bethel Road. The operators were all from New York.

Wednesday, June 16

At 4:59 p.m. on Route 2 Officer Shane Thomas issued a citation to Harold R. Powell Jr., 62, of Hanover for OUI.

Tuesday, June 15

At 10:47 p.m. police received a report from four complainants that a male subject had shot at their vehicle on Mason Street with a BB gun. The driver did not want to press charges. Officers Mike Grenier, Randall Baker and Ovide Richard responded to Mason Street and observed six male subjects standing by a vehicle. The officers asked where the weapon was. One subject had in his possession several pellet/BB guns, and admitted firing one of them in the area of the vehicle. The weapons were seized.

families from that time. The mementos were given out to family members present Saturday. If no one can be found for the remaining items, they will be given to the Andover Historical Society.

Looking to the future, townspeople then buried a new time capsule containing similar information and items. A program, photos and souvenir pins from the 2004 celebration were also included. The capsule is expected to be unearthed again in 25 years.

Saturday evening's fireworks display was one of the most popular events. Said Selectman Joan Carney, "I've never seen as many people in Andover as I did for the fireworks."

She agreed with Mills that the celebration was a resounding success.

"It was a wonderful weekend," she said. "Andover should be proud."

be rerouted over the North Road, according to Bicentennial Committee co-chair Lin Chapman.

Other events will include train rides between Gilead and West Bethel. A locomotive from the St. Lawrence & Atlantic Railroad will pull a caboose provided by Safe Handling Inc. of Auburn.

Rides will leave Gilead at 9:30 and 11 a.m.; and at 12:30, 2 and 3:30 p.m. Space is limited, and Gilead residents will be given priority.

Seating is still available for the 9:30 and 11 a.m. trips. Advance reservations are required at 836-2900. Riders will be required to sign a release form prior to boarding.

Memorabilia from Gilead's past will be on display in the Town Hall, which will be open from noon to 5 p.m. There will be an extensive display of photos from the collections of local people.

Some of the photos were used in two books recently published by the committee. The first, "The Smile of Providence: A History of Gilead, Maine," was written by Howard Reiche and Hugh Chapman.

Because they had more pictures than could be fit in to the first book, Reiche and Chapman decided to do a picture book as well.

Both books will be on sale at the hall.

Vendors will sell food and craft items along Depot Street. From noon to 5 p.m., there will be music by local musicians at the corner of Bridge and Depot streets.

From 1 to 3 p.m., there will be games for children behind the Town Hall.

Time capsule planned later
Lin Chapman said earlier this week plans for the events appear to be going well. Several town buildings will be decked out in bunting, she said, and the Town Hall is receiving a fresh coat of paint.

The Bicentennial Committee also plans a wrap-up event this fall, she said, probably in the form of a town supper.

At that time, a time capsule may be buried. Chapman said the committee decided it would be a good idea to wait until after the celebration to put together a capsule, so that newspaper accounts of the June celebration could be included.

Subdivision

be lots for three townhouse-style buildings of four units each. A recreational building is also planned.

Each lot would have its own well and septic system.

Aloisio said the project calls for a "substantial common area," that could include cross-country ski trails.

The site is adjacent to the Sunday River, which is in a resource protection area, so all parts of the development would be at least 250 feet away from the river.

Planning drainage for the project will be complex, he said, because it drains into Merrill, Monkey, Barker and Dug Hill brooks, all ending up eventually in the Sunday River.

The Maine Department of Environmental Protection will also review the project.

The lot sizes are designed, said Aloisio, "for people willing to make a substantial investment, not just minimum-size lots."

The conceptual plan calls for one lot at the rocky summit of the hill.

"You can build on anything," commented planner David Walker, "— but do you have to?"

Planner Norm Davis, who lives in the Bear River area of town, said Merrill Hill is clearly visible from his house.

Many years ago, he said, the hill had been "completely stripped" by clearcutting, but has grown back.

A formal application for the Merrill Hill project will not be presented until this fall, Aloisio said.

Condo development

At the same meeting, planners reviewed an application from Royal River Development for a 16-unit, condominium-style development on the Sunday River Road.

Six buildings would be constructed on the 19-acre site, formerly owned by the Bean family.

The board will continue its consideration of the application at its next meeting on July 7.

(The reporter is married to Joe Aloisio.)

Rate Hike

The bulk of that expense was incurred in upgrading the system's mains.

Mains in poor condition and in need of replacement have now dropped to below 10 percent of total inventory, he said.

"Since the plant expansion and upgrade in '98 and '99, the town has been very aggressive in replacing bad pipe, and the results show in the inventory," Cole said. "Of course the results also show in the billing as well."

The total sewer budget proposed for fiscal year 2005 is $772,530, up 40 percent from FY 04's total of $553,149.

Under the proposed rate increase customers will pay $7.20 per 100 cubic feet — 80 cents more than the current $6.40.

The minimum quarterly charge for each of the system's 475 customers would increase to $108, from the current $96.

The rate charged for septage received at the treatment plant would not change.

Haulers currently pay 20 cents per gallon for waste from out of town, and 10 cents per gallon for in-town waste.

A public hearing on the new budget will be held Wednesday, July 7, at 7 p.m. in the Town Office meeting room.

Accident

had only a driver's permit, which does not allow him to drive without an adult in the vehicle. Hainey said the district attorney's office would be consulted.

Police said they believe all the occupants were wearing seat belts.

Assisting State Police at the scene were the Oxford County Sheriff's and Paris Police departments.

The accident was the second fatal crash on Tuelltown Road in three years. In 2001, a teenager died in a dirt bike/truck accident at the road's intersection with Benson Hill Road.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston
Sheila Koatsky and daughter Amabelle from Seattle, Wash., have been visiting Maryvonne and Dennis Wheeler and other relatives this past week.

Henry and Betty Robertson celebrated Father's Day with a family cookout that included Erica and Richard Kajimer of Cambridge, Mass., Jack and Merry Ann Harkins and Vicky Robertson of Brunswick, Jean and Glenn Ramsay of Scarborough.

Josie Hannon of Jericho, Vt., visited her grandparents, Bob and Ginny Keniston several days this past week.

George and Danna Nickerson visited Kate and Chad Dumais at their home in Livermore on Sunday.

Arlene Brown enjoyed a cookout and visit with John Greenleaf and family Sunday evening.

The House and Garden Tour, sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society, was a great success. Luncheon was served at the Moses Mason House. Co-chairmen were Virginia Gamble, Mary Alice Bancroft, Jan Stowell, Susan Herlihy, and Wende Gray. The following homes and gardens were visited: Prodigal Inn and Gallery in Mayville (former Barbara Douglass home), Engdahl House on Clark Street (former Norma Jodrey house), Rivendell House in The Park, Gamble House on Paradise Road (a new home), Dr. Moses Mason House, Broad Street, Hammons House on Broad Street (former Upson house), Vogt House and gardens on Broad Street, Drummond House on Broad Street, Kennett House on Broad Street (former Bob and Sue Crane place), Richard Frye House on Broad Street (former Dr. Linwood Brown and Dr. John Young house), Bingham House on Broad Street (now owned by Charles and Edie Seashore).

Ross and Carol Timberlake had an Open House on Saturday at their shop in Mayville. If you didn't attend, you should go and see the wonderful furniture and gifts they offer.

There was a funeral service for Julia B. Brown on Saturday at the Greenleaf Funeral Home. On Thursday, Bob and I were among the guests at the 30th Anniversary Dinner at Camp Susan Curtis in East Stoneham. Jeni Shaw, our granddaughter, is a member of the 34-person staff. She and friend Joe led us on a brief but interesting tour of the area and outstanding facilities. Following a delicious meal, staff personnel entertained with songs, stories, music and the hanging of a painting of Governor Kenneth Curtis' daughter, Susan. A most delightful evening.

Oxford Hills Duplicate Bridge met for a Friday morning game. Winners were: Marta Clements and Dossie Page; second, Les Buzzell and Mike Quinn; third, Bill and Carlene Hewitt; fourth, Pete Cummings and Dick Allen; fifth, Bailey Geeslin and Woodrow Mercer. Also placing were: Pam and Errol Libby, Mike Newsom and Nancy Farmer, Eleanor Griffin and Jim Dickens and Eileen Potvin with Della Starbird.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte
Father's Day was last Sunday. We know everyone paused and gave a thought to our own father. There are all varieties of fathers. Natural fathers, stepfathers, father-in-laws, fathers in Iraq and father figures. They all fit into our lives for the most part with warm feelings of love. They are protectors, providers, counselors, friends, and enemies (when we were in our teens). Isn't it strange, when we reached 21, our fathers became heroes and they knew just about everything. Pop-pop, daddy, dad, papa, da and the "old man" were the designated titles. I had two fathers, Big Jim Nolan and little Alex LeComte. Wasn't I blessed to have both.

The lupine are leapin' all over Upton, from East "B" Hill to Back Street, Mill Road and Route 26 all the way to Errol. The bright orange poppies are in brilliant bloom. The poppies are budded and ready to flower. Let's not forget the early summer roadside show of yellow, lavender and white wildflowers. The mosquitoes and black flies are also in full bloom, running their own "blood bank."

Real summer arrived early in the week. Let's forget those frost covers of a week ago. Visitors to the "big" town of Upton this past week were, the Silverbergs from Florida, and Carolyn and Carl Taylor, with "umteen" grandchildren. Alden, the youngest, age six months, is a poster boy for happiness.

Michael and Susan Sullivan, Anita and Bill Harris visited briefly and then took off for Portsmouth, N.H. for a Father's Day dinner with the grandsons. Margaret Mitchell spent the weekend in Lebanon, N.H. attending great-granddaughter's wedding.

Lucille and Earl Largesse, son Michael, Mike Tibbets and grandson Mark Largesse and Garfrett Morton attended the races in Englishtown.

I must have done something right this week because I was rewarded with a beautiful bouquet of very large irises from Jeanette Roy. They are all shades of purple with one giant black iris.

Anita and Bill Harris distributed gifts of hydroponic tomatoes from their farm in Leroy N.Y. Real tomato taste, I might add. Thank you, friends, for your kind thoughts.

Wilma Rector has a magnificent indigo bunting at her home on East "B" Hill. Buster Williamson came upon a clutch of baby woodcock behind his house. I saw mama partridge on Route 26 play "chicken" with her brood in the traffic.

Saturday night, Sue and Larry Nelson and the LeComtes witnessed a turkey vulture devouring something nasty in front of the old Grange Hall. The flock of geese are growing and so are the piles of fertilizer they produce on the lawn.

The chimney at the Old LeComte lot has been knocked down by Ed Bennett. There is a profusion of beautiful pink roses, multicolored lupine and white snowballs remaining. This site was one of Elsie Douglass' favorite deer hunting spots in the old days. Elsie died after a long life last week. We offer our sympathy to her family, who always came first with Elsie. She treasured the love and support that her family gave to her in some very difficult times. She will be missed by many.

In regard to the lupine on the side of the road — Dig them up and you are risking your neck. There is a plan afoot to tie you naked to a tree with the black flies and mosquitoes devouring your body. Consider yourself forewarned.

Andover

by Joan Stinson-Carney
Well while it may have rained on our parade last Saturday, the rest of the weekend went very, very well.

The sun came out, dried us all off and in my opinion Andover's 200th Birthday Party was a complete success. The selectmen want to thank Joe Simard for lending us his convertible, and Buddy Chase for acting as our chauffeur during the parade.

Some of the events that will remain with me for the next 50 years are the opening of the Time Capsule, the great success of the "Birthday Cake," and best of all, the fireworks. I have never seen so many people in town before at the same time, and I think Andover made history again by having its first traffic jam. Things got a little sticky after the fireworks; thank heavens I'm a "Boston Driver."

Congratulations to Bev Swan, she won the Ethan Allen cabinet raffled off by the Bicentennial Committee.

Andrea Savits reports that ASC members did their part in helping make the Bicentennial Celebration memorable. For instance, Evelyn Bodemer was one of the Bicentennial Committee members, and Carole Holtzman and Betzee Lozier acted as judges of the Kids Parade of bikes, trykes and doll carriages. Andrea Savitz, Evelyn Bodemer, Robin Lincoln, Betzee Lozier and Judy Michaud functioned as tour guides at the "Open Houses." The Pancake Breakfast was a smashing success. While every member of the ASC deserves recognition for this event, Carole Holtzman stands out in front. She flipped pancakes for almost three hours, earning her the nickname "Flipper." Also, special thanks to volunteers David Hotzman and Heather Lincoln for their unending service during the breakfast, to Junior Poor and Paula Smith for their generous donations of maple syrup, and lastly to Pastor Jane Rich and the congregation of the Andover Congregational Church for the use of the CEB.

I personally want to thank all the Birthday Cake makers; you know who you are, Freeman Farrington for making the "Cake Plate," Norma Farrington and Betsey White for their terrific cake design, and Amica Jolicœur and Barbara Fisher for their "frosting" expertise.

I want to thank the Bethel Lions Club for their very generous donation to our Town Hall Clock Restoration Fund, also to those who donated over the weekend. We ended up with a little over $40 in donations. A good start, but we still need a lot more if we are to save the clock. Don't feel anxious if you don't hear it chiming for a while. Our repairman suggested that we shut it down until the necessary repairs can be made.

The Poys had a lot of fun this weekend, had a great time, but wonder why if a group of geese are called geese, why aren't a group of moose called meese — anybody know?

Now on to our next big event — Olde Home Days the weekend of Aug. 6, 7, and 8. This year the celebration of our 200th birthday will continue with Moonbounce, sponsored by the Andover Elementary School, the 2nd annual Clown Contest, part of the parade but with separate ribbons to be won, and the 3rd annual pie eating contest. There will be a new category added to the Garden Contest — "Containers" that will include bottles, barrels, baskets, boxes, etc. Lots of music including the Leaving City Limits Band on Friday evening, The Mahoosuc Band, the Old Crow Band, Karaoke, and Don Levesque. The Ancient Ones will be back again this year, there will be a pig roast and horse shows put on by the Ellis River Riders, an Antique Car Show, and many more events.

When the town of Andover puts on events, you can trust that whatever is done is done very, very well, so mark your calendars for that weekend. There might even be a waffle raffle.

Now I don't know if you would consider this romantic, but it's certainly different. Betsey Morton and Albert Lauze got engaged this weekend, and I want to congratulate them both, but really Al, do you think that 5 a.m., yup, that's right, 5 a.m. was the best time to pop the question? The ring is beautiful by the way. See ya.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester
A reminder — swimming lessons start at Howard Pond on June 28 and go through July 9. Registration is at the swimming area next to the dam on June 28, beginning at noon. There is no fee for the lessons.

The June elections produced one of the smallest turnouts in recent years. Only 49 voters out of 192 registered voters took part in the Primary/Referenda election.

Results from Hanover voters followed the same trends as around the state.

Ballot clerks for the day were Joan Everett, Paul Ramsey and Brenda Gross for Republicans and Herb Adams and Donna Worcester for the Democrats. Clem Worcester was election warden and Kelly Crockett was election clerk.

Louise Worcester died Saturday evening, June 12, following an illness. There was an outpouring of sympathy from the community which culminated with a memorial service at Hanover Cemetery on Thursday, June 17. Pastor David Kimball of the Rumford Center Methodist Church conducted the service. A large group of friends and relatives attended.

Visiting in Hanover last week were Eleanor and Carlton Garland from Dumaston, Vt., and Janet O'Keefe and her family from Brattleboro, Vt.

Once again we missed the free fishing weekend. Perhaps we should buy a license.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

I, for one, am really glad that summer has arrived. So far it's been on the cool side and that's fine with me. It is usually right about this time of the year that we start experiencing some darned hot and humid days. We've been pretty lucky so far.

I like the summer weather on the cooler side for a number of reasons. Low nighttime temperatures are much more comfortable for sleeping. I hate having a fan blowing on me all night and I know there are nights ahead when two fans will be necessary. But for now it's quite pleasant and I do like that.

I also like the idea that one can work outside without dropping from heat exhaustion. Notice I said idea, because I haven't actually spent a lot of time working outside, but if I want to I could do it without sweat running into my eyes and elsewhere.

The best thing about the cooler weather is the clothing options. I can still wear bulge-friendly clothing without being too hot. I favor slacks or jeans and long-sleeve, bulky tops to cover a multitude of bulges and flab. All too soon I will have to let a lot more hang out than I care to or suffer extreme discomfort.

There was a time when I wore cute little shorts and halter tops on hot summer days and looked pretty darn good. Of course, those were younger and slimmer days. Who the heck am I kidding; those were childhood days.

Though even in adulthood I could wear Bermuda shorts and a tank top and look okay. Even a bathing suit didn't prove to be a total embarrassment. But that was a long time ago and now with my ever-expanding shape, self-respect and social decency dictate that I keep myself covered.

I haven't even owned a bathing suit in years and years. I had a brief lapse in reality a few weeks ago when I considered buying a bathing suit thinking I might go swimming with the grandkids this summer. A trip to the department store slapped me back into reality in a hurry.

Have you seen what's out there for bathing suits? What are they thinking? Surely the designers had no one weighing over 100 pounds in mind when they fashioned these little bits of material and called them swimwear.

If I ever do wear a bathing suit again I certainly don't want a giant hot pink hibiscus on my butt.

I actually found one in my size, or at least according to the tag it was, but parts of me that it would not cover could get me arrested.

Some of the bathing suits, if they did come in my size and praise be that they don't, I wouldn't even be able to figure out how to put them on. They seemed to be more like a contraption of straps with little pockets of material than bathing suits. And those little thong numbers, well, don't they just give a whole new meaning to wedgie!

I can only imagine what a woman of the Victorian era would think if she could see the swimwear of 2004. I can only imagine what the men of that era would think.

I wouldn't care to revisit that period when women were treated as second-rate citizens, but after seeing the current bathing suit styles, the top to bottom coverage of the mid-1800's does have a certain amount of appeal to me.

The women did not wear bathing suits; they wore bathing dresses. They were neck high, long-sleeve affairs that went down to mid-shin and weights were often sewn into the hems so they wouldn't billow up in the water and reveal anything. And a matching pair of bloomers down to the ankles were also required. Imagine what it was like to swim in those outfits. At least they concealed the bulges along with everything else.

It just so happens that I received two catalogs today. One was from a company that markets to mature full-figured women and one that markets to a much younger and slimmer audience. The first catalog had a few bathing suits that were one piece and the basic style was okay, but the patterns were loud, garish floral prints. If I ever do wear a bathing suit again I certainly don't want a giant hot pink hibiscus on my butt.

The other catalog had a number of slinky little bathing suits in both one piece and two, but I think some of the one-piece suits had less material than a handkerchief. I suppose they would be fine on the size 2 figure that was available, but what amazed me was that they were also available up to size 4X. The only thing that was more amazing was a two-piece bathing suit made of some miracle fiber that was one size fits all!

The way I see it this won't be the year that I buy a new bathing suit. If the weather stays cool I won't even have to think about it and if it gets so hot that I feel I need the relief I can always drape myself with a sheet, weight down the ends, put on a pair of bloomers and call it a swimming dress.

It has been a busy week for Lorene and I, and Debbie and Owen Brown, anyway. Praise Assembly of God in Rumford Center has held evangelism meetings with Rev. Gerald Mayham and his wife Phyllis, from the Potomac District of the Assemblies of God. The Mayhams themselves come from Virginia, which is part of the Potomac District.

Rev. Mayham was delivered of 17 years of drug addiction and has quite a testimony. He also has an inexhaustible supply of Bible verses to share with all who will listen, and he has the ability to make almost everyone listen. He is not content to let anyone go without hearing the salvation message of Jesus Christ. That man, who is a grandfather twice over, has an incredible supply of energy, also, and even the young folk had hard work to keep up with him.

On Sunday afternoon, Debbie and Owen took the Mayhams to the seashore and treated them to fresh lobster.

Pastor Justin Thacker and the Mayhams visited Lorene and I on Monday. Of course, since we were having something special, which I am sure Brother Mayham would say should be an everyday walk for the Christian, Ralph had to work extra this week and only got to hear him Sunday morning.

Tuesday, Pastor Thacker took them to Lewiston where his wife works and then to The Good Shepherd Food Bank where they loaded up with food to be boxed and given away.

So Wednesday afternoon after Owen Brown and Mary Thacker got out of work, they joined Randy Davis, Pastor Thacker and the Mayhams and went to part of Rumford and delivered the food and the Gospel to families there. Debbie, Lorene and I stayed at the church and prayed since we believe that any endeavor for the Lord should be backed up with prayer. After they all got back to the church we prepared for the final service that was well attended. Then those that wanted to went to McDonald's for food and fellowship.

As the Mayhams were leaving early Thursday morning, to go back to Virginia, we all prayed for them and Pastor Thacker, who had to get them to the airport, and wished them Godspeed. We really were sorry to see them go. They are a delightful couple. I wish I had their boldness to share the love of Jesus Christ to all I meet, as He has done so much for me.

Ann Fitzmorris and I went out for supper Thursday evening topping off seven evenings out of eight that I had been out somewhere. I forgot to mention I accompanied Gerry Shimamura and Becky Ricker to Auburn last Friday evening to attend a Zone Rally of the Church of the Nazarene. The missionary that spoke was from the area of South Africa that includes several other countries such as Swaziland. He has a wide area to cover.

Debbie and Owen Brown attended a dance recital that their grandson, John Walker, was in. I am very fond of John but I was glad that they are his grandparents and not I (actually I am sure they are, too) because I think one more thing to attend this week would have definitely been too much for me.

I was surprised to see one of the little goslings fly a few feet the other day. I would think he was very young to be doing that but apparently not. It was a good thing he could because he was in the road and a car was coming.

I was glad Greenwood voted to buy Maggie Ring's property, as we need some of the area kept as natural as possible. Our wilderness is fast being filled with housing, and it usually does not do our landscape any good. There are some who try to disturb the area as little as possible when they build, but that is not true of all and I am not thrilled to look at the hills and see buildings where I used to see trees. John always said he was glad he would probably be gone by the time it changed too much, and I am sure he would find it a bit much anyway the way it is now.

Last week was an interesting and busy one for me. I flew to Albuquerque, N.M., on June 11 to attend a five-day training course for the Civil Air Patrol (CAP), taking place at Kirtland Air Force Base on June 13 through June 18.

The course was the Inspector General (IG) college, mandatory for all IG's at the wing or higher level. My plan was to arrive at the base on Friday night and meet my daughter, Anita, Saturday at around noon for some hiking in the White Mountains of New Mexico, about 200 miles south of Albuquerque (ABQ). Trouble was, things did not start out well for me.

My plane was over an hour late arriving at the ABQ, making it a little after midnight when I got there. I got my rental car and arrived at Kirtland AFB at somewhere around 2 a.m. and checked in at billeting.

The lady there told me that they were nearly booked, but I could stay Saturday and Sunday and might have to move to off-base quarters for Monday through Friday. (I later found out that the computer cancelled my reservation because my arrival time was the day after my scheduled date, since it was now after midnight). She gave me a map of the base and key to a room near the "other billeting office," which was about a mile away on the other side of the base.

I am generally a pretty good navigator, but I was beginning to feel pretty tired; it was very dark out and the map they gave me intentionally left out some of the streets for "security reasons."

At any rate, I was soon thoroughly disoriented, which was reflected by my driving pattern, pulling over at street corners to read the street signs or study my map. Soon I was pulled over by a security policeman in a very large pickup truck and ordered to get on the sidewalk. Once I convinced the policeman I was not a "DUI," he was very helpful in pointing me in the correct direction.

I was soon happy to be dragging my luggage down the corridor to my room for the night. I inserted the key in the door, opened it and stepped inside, only to find someone else already sleeping there.

By now, it was nearly 3 a.m., and I was contemplating sleeping in the car. No. I decided to go back to billeting and see if they had another room or else give me my money back. Soon, lost again.

This time, I was pro-active; I attracted another security policeman and convinced him to lead me to billeting, which he did. Soon I was in a smaller, but still nice room — finally. That afternoon, Anita and I began a delightful hike to the crest of a ridge about 9,000 feet up in the White Mountains of New Mexico.

There we set up our tent in a small depression just out of the wind where we had panoramic views in almost every direction. Grassy slopes ascended the slopes to the very tops of some 10,000 foot mountains, broken by a few ponderosa and Douglas fir tree stands where elk and deer rested out of sun and sight. A lone elk grazed far below our tent as the evening dusk set in.

Next morning, we continued over the ridge and down the canyon on the other side to complete a large loop back to our cars at the end of the road. Along the way we watched numerous elk, a few deer, a ferret harassing birds in a thicket, a hen turkey with hatchlings, and innumerable other birds. We made it back to the cars with only a few sore muscles and some itchy legs resulting from the numerous stinging nettles that dotted the trails.

I spent the next five days in the IG college, where I made new friends from Montana to Arizona and Florida to Hawaii and Alaska.

For me this was just one of many potential rewards of belonging to a nonprofit organization where people of all stations in life contribute time for a good cause.

What a busy weekend with all the graduations. My great-grandson, Tyler Green of Freeport, graduated from Freeport High School. They had a get-together for him; also, his brother Codie graduated from the eighth grade. There were several that attended from the area.

Another great-grandson, Matthew Searles, graduated from high school at Mount Blue and another great-grandson, Spencer Curtis, graduated from the eighth grade at Oxford Hills.

Albert and Marie Curtis went over to Turner to see their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Ames. They had a party for Jessica Ames; she graduated at Leavitt in Turner. Fred and Mandie Curtis and girls joined them.

Brad Payne went to Belgrade with friends to play golf. He went up to Paris Hill and played golf with his uncle, Henry Paradis. Ann Holt went to Minot and Sally Holt went with her to a baby shower for Sarah Murray at Beth Paradis' home. David Holt was at the farm Sunday to have dinner with his folks, Leonas and Fay Holt. Robert Holt of Windsor is staying at the farm with Fay and Leonas Holt while he is reevaluating taxes at Brownfield.

North Newry

Karlene's twin sisters, Wilma and Hilma, from Unity, celebrated their 75th birthday, Saturday, June 12, at the Veteran's Legion Hall with over 100 friends and relatives, some from out of state. There were many gifts and cards and lots of kisses and hugs. A buffet was enjoyed and lots of fun for all. A big birthday cake was cut by sister Karlene Bachelder. We wish them a great future.

Call to worship was held Sunday morning, at 9 a.m., at the Newry Community Church with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. Thought for the day by Sue Wight, "We need one another." Scripture readings by Owen Wight, Sue and Nancy. The message of the day was, "What is Life All About?" from St. John 8:12. "Then spoke Jesus again unto them, saying I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." A prayer followed, hymn sung, benediction, postlude, amen.

West Paris

Congratulations to Ted Bradeen of West Paris upon being the recipient of the Boston Post gold-headed cane. This was presented to him Saturday afternoon by Bertha DeHaas, president of the West Paris Senior Citizens. Mr. Bradeen will be 97 years young on his birthday, Aug. 3.

Congratulations go out to Sienna Tinsley and William Ackley, both of West Paris, as the recipients of the Albert and Beatrice Jackson Scholarships. They both received $3,000 to use for college. Again, congratulations, Sienna is our valedictorian this year.

Sienna Tinsley is the daughter of Cynthia and Forrest

Tinsley of West Paris. She will be going to Amherst College in Amherst, Mass., in September.

William Ackley is the son of Patricia and Joseph Ackley also of West Paris. He will be attending the University of Maine in Farmington in September.

We are really proud of both of you. Much success in the future.

Sunday morning, as Bruce and Jean had vacation time, Gary Page was the pastor of the day at the West Paris Baptist Church service. After church our Sunday School had their final program for the summer followed by a cookout. They will reconvene in September. Have a good summer, and come join us for Vacation Bible School at the end of the summer.

With all the public suppers, garage sales and other activities, guess we will be busy most of the time. See you next week.

Summer is here, the sun is shining and the temperature is rising. The sound of lawnmowers is all about us. Many of our shrubs and plants are in bloom. The white peonies are just beginning to show their color. At one time I had dark red ones, too, but they must have winterkilled. Some people have the large pink ones. Their fragrance is heavenly. The bridal wreath is out everywhere. What a time to be outside.

At the West Paris Universalist Church last Sunday a flower communion was held. Father's Day was celebrated and each father present received carnations. Services will start in September. The West Summer Universalist Church holds services in July and August and all are invited.

Gary and Doris Marston and son Jessie of Lakewood, Wash., visited Rick and Linda Chase over the weekend. Beverly and Vince Stevens, Georgia Thayer, and Lee Dean visited Muriel and Steven Bunker in Barrington, N.H., last weekend.

Joseph and Margaret Perham celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in Las Vegas. They are also rejoicing in a newly remodeled kitchen. Peg has been telling us of the slow progress as we enjoy our morning walks. It has been difficult getting all workers coordinated and getting the appliances when the space and installers were ready for them. We wish them many more years of happiness and pleasure in the years to come.

Beryl Bonney accompanied me to Camp Susan Curtis in East Stoneham one evening last week. Guided tours were available, and I walked all over the campus with a senior counselor. There are many changes from the days that I worked there as camp nurse. After working there for 15 years, I was pleased with the improvements. There was a nice group of counselors and a new director and assistant director. All is ready for the children to arrive for their two-week stays. A nice supper was served to all. Some of my past campers introduced themselves to me. I had not recognized one of the girls, for she was eight years old when at camp. She remembered me though. It was nice to hear how well they are doing. It was a good group of workers, so all 450 campers expected for the next eight weeks should benefit greatly from their camping experiences.

Buffy is enjoying the sunny weather and even likes to sit under the lawn chair near the back door when it rains. He has always been my alarm clock but now has started telling me when it is bedtime, for he likes to sleep at my feet or in his basket beside the bed.

Albany

Greetings and hello from Albany Township. We hope that this finds everyone well. The Church Yard Sale will be held this Saturday at the Community Hall beside the church. All items must go, as this will be the only sale planned for the season. If you have any questions, feel free to contact Holle Corriveau. Otherwise, we hope to see you there on Saturday. And remember, the church suppers start in just a couple of weeks. We know we're looking forward to them.

We have news regarding Baby Faith Waterman. This darling little one is progressing very well, thanks in large part to your continued prayers and support. She is sitting up and holding her head up nicely now and is much more involved with her surroundings, etc., as any four- to five-month old would be. She had a feeding tube that ran from her nose into her tummy, and she kept pulling that out. This past Friday she pulled it out, and her parents decided to try feeding her with the bottle. On Friday, she weighed 7 pounds, 7 ounces. After a weekend of her parents feeding her every two hours (she was actually crying when she was hungry), she weighed, as of Monday, 7 pounds, 14 ounces. The nurse agreed to allow them to continue feeding her with the bottle. The doctors are planning on putting in a feeding tube directly into her stomach (not down her throat); we are all praying that this bottle feeding will continue being successful so as to avoid this procedure. It all depends on how well her barium test goes. We will continue to keep you posted on the progress of this little one.

God Bless and keep.

East Stoneham

Hi readers. Saturday, June 12, Albert Nelson Jr. (Genie) was honored at a surprise (?) 50th birthday party, which was planned and organized by his two sons, Troy and Eric, also Erin. They had a pig roast and turkey roast and salads and lots of cold drinks. It was a hot day, but a fun day. I think there were 45 people there to help him celebrate the occasion. You did a good job "kids." Everything was perfect. The video of Gene's life from a baby up until now was a great hit. He thanked everyone there for everything. He had a huge birthday cake and many gifts. Happy birthday, Gene, and many more. Oh yes, it all took place at the Kezar Lake Grange Hall at North Lovell.

meeting for the Oxford County Republicans here at the Stoneham Congregational Church vestry. After a delicious ham dinner, the meeting was opened at 7:30 p.m. with about 43 members in attendance. Speakers of the evening were Christien and Paige who presented slides showing the figures and information about Bush-Cheney Campaign '04, "72-Hour Plan for November Election." Christien was a very knowledgeable speaker and showed much enthusiasm on the subject she is so very interested in. Several members spoke about issues and upcoming events and some candidates spoke. It was noted that the Oxford County Republicans have headquarters on Main Street in Norway. A few bumper stickers were handed out by Rob Cameron's campaign manager. The meeting was adjourned about 8:15 p.m. The next meeting will be the

The Stoneham Church Thrift Shop and Bake Sales are going on Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Come on in and see what's there. I bet you will find something you like.

One more date to remember is the Senior Appreciation Day, Friday, June 25, 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Fryeburg Fairgrounds. This is called TRIAD and is put on by the Oxford County Sheriff's Department. It is a free lunch and many safety tips for senior citizens of the area. See you there.

We were sorry to learn of the passing of Sandra Springer. She was such a jolly person and shall be missed by many people. Our sympathy and prayers are with her family.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham
It is officially summer. I don't know if that means that we won't actually have any more frosts, but I sure hope so. I'm keeping an eye on the tomatoes and pepper plants. I think that all other plants are fine. We have had a problem with cutworms eating stems, but David has planted a few more plants with some advice from Dave at Northstar Gardens.

I understand several people were upset because I missed last week's deadline. I had that 24-hour virus and then had to leave early Tuesday for a seminar on Universal Waste. I did learn about mercury and some transfer station do's and don'ts.

If anyone doesn't already know, the summer hours at the Waterford-Albany-Stoneham Transfer Station (W.A.S.T.E.) are: Tuesday and Thursday from 12 to 5 p.m., Saturday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Sunday, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. All must have a new red transfer station sticker or they will not be able to leave their trash. This is to ensure that only residents and not others are using the transfer station. The transfer station will be closed on the Fourth of July.

It is also time for the Fourth of July parades. There is one on the Fourth in Waterford. All are welcome. Waterford library will also have a fund-raising book sale. All should bring their used books to the library. The Mt. Tiram Lodge will have a yard sale that day to raise money for their scholarship fund.

Thursday, the 24th, is the birthday of Becky Morin. If you see her be sure to wish her a Happy Birthday.

The 24th is the monthly reading of the Mountain Poets Society. The reading is at 7 p.m. at Fare Share Commons on Main Street in Norway. All are welcome. Mountain Poets' Lisa Moore is spearheading Poets on the Porch at the Summer Festival on July 10.

The Hart Family celebrated Father's Day at our home. In attendance were David and I; children, David Jr. and Rosemary, Becky Morin, Danny and Carrie, and Rachel West; and grandchildren, Sadie Morin, David Hart III, Marie West, Sarah Hebert and Cassidy and Ryan Perkins. Also present was Mo Murch. All enjoyed a turkey dinner, corn on the cob and cheesecake as well as other fixings. Becky engineered a scrapbook showing highlights of David Sr.'s life with his children. All added bits and pieces of their memories of life with their father.

Adult Ed. Summer School starts next week on the first of July. Check it out if you need to pick up some credits. That is all for this week. Have a great week.

Bryant Pond

The Rev. Kenneth Lindsey will be the guest minister at the Universalist Church on Sunday, June 27, at 9 a.m. All are welcome to attend.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet at the Grange Hall on Thursday, July 1, at 11:30 a.m. for their meeting. Dinner will be served at noon by Franklin Grange. Program follows the dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Guerny as guests, and Mr. Guerny will speak on "Yesterdays," pertaining to the Town of Woodstock and village of Bryant Pond. He is very well versed on the olden days and history of the area. All citizens of town are invited to this very outstanding program.

The Senior Citizens will hold a bake sale plus flea market items on Saturday, June 26, at 9 a.m. at the Grange Hall. Sandwiches, coffee and punch will be on sale at noon by Annella Burnham and Evelyn Bean. Cecile Lescault and Joan Morgan are in charge of the sale. Tables can be rented for $5 to sell your own things. The hall will be open on Friday night, June 25, at 6 p.m. to receive items for the sale.

Judith Grover Tent 17 met at the Grange Hall on Monday, June 14, with seven members. The charter was draped by PNP Gwenda Matheny. It was reported that the Memorial Day expenses had been paid. Also, the certificate of participation and gold dollars were presented to the fourth grade for writing the essay, "What Memorial Day Means to Me." Voted to have a picnic in July at Sally's. Tent to buy hamburger and hot dogs; each one to bring something. Twelve calls were reported. History of the American Flag was read by Sally Sawyer. General Order No. 3 was read and a thank you from Amanda. Convention is June 24 and 25 at Waterville. A few members are going. Helvi got the mystery package.

Alice and Ken Hoyt, Beth, Steve and Marybeth Hoover, Jim, Joseph and Maggie Hoyt and Charlene Cash attended a cookout on Sunday at JoAnn and David Crockett's for Shawn's birthday. Also attending were Lola and Clayton Crockett, Cynthia and Joe Campbell, Gloria and Burnie Rice, Vickie and Braydon.

At the Woodstock Alumni Banquet on June 12, Daniel Dunham and Zane Howe received the scholarships. A delicious banquet was put on by the Legion Auxiliary. Ninety-three people attended.

Lloyd Cushman was in Bryant Pond with his wife, Terry. They visited his sister-in-law, Dot Cushman and her family. Lloyd was one of the Shriners marching in the West Paris Parade on Old Home Days.

Pattie Caret, Helen Nieberle and Karen Yarasities hiked up Mt. Christopher. The trail is behind the Maine Conservation School. When you are at the top you have a beautiful view of Lake Christopher. Karen climbed the mountain three times in one week.

Ciara Nadeau's grandmother, Sheryl Morgan, was Volunteer Of The Year at Woodstock Elementary School. All volunteers are appreciated, but they choose one as volunteer of the year. Also at W.E.S. one of the teachers, Mrs. Wilson, and her husband, welcomed a beautiful baby girl to their family in April, named Madison Alexa.

Moonstone Therapy has decorated their front yard with beautiful new plants and bird bath.

Round House antiques is open under new management. For a fun time, go watch T-ball at the ball field Sunday evenings. Say hi to Annie and Russell Cushman.

Philip Landry was named Employee Of The Year at Mt. Abram Ski Resort before it closed for the season.

Sarah Caret attended a holistic health fair in Newry, put together by Polly Mahoney.

Maine Conservation School was on Channel 6 TV recently. It spoke of the junior Maine Guide classes and classes learning to survive in the outdoors. One of the new directors was Scott Olson. New tent sites were being built at the school. A community dinner will be coming up in June. Last week, Ken and Alice Hoyt, Steve and Beth Hoyt attended the awards night at Oxford Hills Christian Academy with Marybeth Hoover. This Wednesday evening Ken and Alice Hoyt, James Hoyt and Charlene Cash attended eighth-grade recognition night at Wiscasset Middle School where Joseph Hoyt participated.

At the June meeting of the Historical Society members recalled old times from national events to things years ago in Woodstock. Curator Larry Billings supplied flowers and talked about Reagan's funeral. Vice President Annella Burnham chaired the meeting. Earlier in the day Elena Noyes and Mary Billings watched the museum. A few people were in. Mary and Annella furnished the refreshments for the meeting. The next program will be a video supplied by Kathleen Bean. The society's Flea Market will be July 10, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tables are $3 each and they hope to have a good sale. They watched President Reagan's funeral. He will certainly go down as a man for the ages. Will we leave any mark on history? The museum is a good attraction in Woodstock. The exhibits are varied and nice and visitors enjoy them. Be sure to stop by this summer. On June 13 in the Maine Sunday Telegram, there was a real good article on Woodstock. Curator Larry Billings and others were interviewed over the phone. It was great publicity for the town. Curator Larry attended the Baptist Church to hear the new minister on Sunday.

Andrew and Lissa Merrill have moved into their home in West Paris. They have had the home done all over and I'm anxious to see it.

Larry Billings, curator of the Woodstock Historical Society, reports that at the June meeting members remembered things in their past. At the next meeting a video will be shown by Kathleen Bean. The flea market will be July 10, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tables are $3.

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

We need help. And we think there are many people in the area that might be willing and able to have the time to help us. If you are someone who knows and loves the Bethel area and western Maine, and like to help people, we are seeking volunteers to give us two to four hours per week to meet, greet and help the dozens of visitors who come into the chamber's information center each day. Mornings are especially busy. Please call us at 824-2282 to find out more about this volunteer opportunity. We also have two-hour time slots available for each of our summer events for folks who might like to be a part of those activities. The first event is the 15th annual Bethel Art Fair on Saturday, July 3 on the Bethel common. After that, we are seeking helpers for the Mollycoddett Day Classic Road Race and Walking Event, and the lobster roll booth on the common, both events being on Saturday, July 17. Finally, we are seeking willing helpers for the 13th annual Maine State Triathlon Classic, on Sunday, July 25. Call us or stop in and let us know what time periods you'd like to volunteer.

Many thanks to the Sudbury Inn for hosting last week's business after hours. It was terrific to see so many friends of the chamber.

Remember to put Thursday, July 22, on your schedule for the July Business after Hours at Bethel Outdoor Adventure and Campground.

The chamber recently hosted another outdoor writer/fishing press trip, thanks to the efforts of Rocky Freda, who coordinated the guides and Wende Gray, who coordinated the lodging, food and the other critical details. Thanks are extended to the lodging places that hosted these writers: Rivendell House, Sudbury Inn, Chapman Inn, Bethel Inn and L'Auberge Country Inn. There are several others who indicated willingness to host, and we will utilize their facilities for future press trips. One of the writers was actually a photojournalist, who has National Geographic Adventure Magazine to his credits. Happy summer to all.

Gilead Bicentennial Committee

Local legend has it that the Town of Gilead was named after a grove of Balm-of-Gilead trees located near the center of town. Members of the Gilead Bicentennial Committee wished to locate a Balm-of-Gilead tree for transplanting to commemorate the town's 200-year anniversary on Saturday, June 26. After a protracted search, several living specimens of the Balm-of-Gilead tree were located in the state park picnic area along Route

2, in the heart of the village, in the exact location selected for the commemorative planting. It is speculated that the parents of these trees were brought to the area by settlers of the Peabody Patent, at some time before 1804, as this species of poplar is not native to the area and must be cultivated. Often used in a potpourri, the heart-shaped leaves produce a lemon-cedar-camphor fragrance when bruised. The tree's antibiotic and anti-fungal resin has been prized for centuries for its medicinal properties and has been used to treat a wide variety of ailments such as sore throats, bronchitis, arthritis, eczema and psoriasis.

Update on Train Rides

During the bicentennial celebration, train rides from Gilead to West Bethel and returning are offered, thanks to a caboose provided by Safe Handling, Inc. of Auburn and a locomotive and train crew from the St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railroad. Rides will leave Gilead at 9:30, 11, 12:30, 2, and 3:30. Seating is still available for the 9:30 and 11 a.m. trips. Space is limited, so Gilead residents will receive priority, and advance reservations will be required. Riders will be required to sign a release form in the Town Hall 15 minutes prior to boarding. Reservations may be made by calling Gale Tout at 836-2900.

Last-minute Preparations Continue

Members of the Gilead Bicentennial Committee are working fast and furiously toward our day of celebration. The town is getting quite a facelift, with new welcome signs on both east and west ends of Route 2, a fresh coat of paint inside and out of the town hall, brush cleared for parking areas, flower pots, festive bunting and banners, and a general clean-up.

The challenge consists of a one-mile swim in beautiful Range Pond, a 20-mile bike ride in the park and on the surrounding scenic roads; a four-mile canoe and five-mile kayak in the pond and a five-mile run.

There are nine team divisions, including All Men, All Women, Mixed (with at least one man and one woman on the team), Masters (all team members must be 40 or older), Iron Man or Iron Woman, Family (all members must be related), Team Support (at least one athlete requires the physical assistance of a team member to compete in the sport) and Team Ability (at least one member on the team has a disability). ### Northern Forest Heritage Park

The Northern Forest Heritage Park Trust is proud to announce that Public Service of New Hampshire has become a founding member of its new Corporate Partners Program through a $5,000 investment donation for program development. Pat McDermott, director of Community and Economic Development for PSNH, presented the check to NFHP Board chairman Haven Neal during a visit.

According to McDermott, "The Northern Forest Heritage Park's work in both community and economic development through heritage-based tourism and cultural heritage education is critical to expanding this region's economic base. We have watched Heritage Park take on a very challenging community leadership role and work hard to achieve its mission and goals such as: the Logging Camp Interpretation Center, the Artisans Gift Shop featuring the work of 55 local artisans and small entrepreneurs, Festival du Bois, Scenic Heritage River Boat Tours, and now becoming the permanent home of the Northern Forest Moose Tours. Heritage Park is giving people a reason to come to the area, spend some money, have fun with their families, and gain an understanding and appreciation of this region's history and heritage. We want to support that."

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, Neal stated, "PSNH has watched our growth and supported our progress in many in-kind and monetary ways throughout the years. Two years ago through in-kind marketing and promotion, PSNH placed many large display ads throughout New Hampshire newspapers to help us gain visibility in a way we could never afford. As a small, nonprofit trust, we need the support of many individuals and corporate friends to be able to continue to do what we do. We sincerely thank PSNH for taking a leadership role in helping us launch our Corporate Partners Program."

Designed to find a strategic fit between local and regional corporate interests with Heritage Park's many community service programs, events, and projects, the Corporate Partners Program is an important part of Heritage Park's annual fundraising campaign.

Currently, corporate sponsors and underwriters are needed for the Festival du Bois, the Great North Woods Lumberjack Competition, the Blacksmith Shop, and Logging Camp Interpretive Center programs including nature-based tours and school programs. NFHP trustees Jim Wagner and George Pozzuto are chairing the park's Corporate Partnership Development Program. ### Gould Academy

Approximately 45 computer technologists representing schools and businesses from across New England gathered Monday at Gould Academy to see firsthand the advantages of using free Linux software on their networks.

Schools and businesses that use free Linux software, as opposed to Microsoft programs that require expensive yearly licenses, stand to save tens of thousands of dollars each year without sacrificing the power and reliability of their networks.

As one of the first schools in the country to use Linux as the desktop operating system for the entire school, Gould has been at the forefront of demonstrating the use of Linux to other institutions and putting this powerful technology directly in students' hands.

Gould's use of Linux has proven to be an exceptional educational tool. Each year Gould offers courses on Linux operating systems and creating Linux based networks. This spring, two Gould seniors constructed a firewall for Bethel's new fire station using Linux technology.

Gould's director of technology, Derek Dresser, commented on Gould's use of Linux, "Switching to Linux has increased the reliability of our network and saved Gould hundreds of thousands of dollars in both licensing and maintenance costs without sacrificing the software capabilities available to our students."

For more information about the Linux seminar, visit: <http://network.gouldacademy.org>

GOULD ACADEMY STUDENTS NETWORK NEW BETHEL FIRE STATION—Students in Gould's Physical Networking elective completed some high-tech community service for the town of Bethel by wiring the new fire station with phone and Internet connections. The students, led by teachers Derek Dresser and Randy Autrey, learned about creating networks of phone and internet connections in a class that is not usually offered at the high school level. For their final project, the students worked together to terminate and test the circuitry of all the phone and data cables in the station, saving the town money in the process. Gould seniors Matt Humbert and Jay Steiner also contributed to the project through an independent study. They built an Internet firewall that will protect the station's computers and data from hackers and computer viruses. Here (from left), students Chris Gillio and Dan Koris, and Randy Autrey, Gould's networking specialist, teacher, and a Bethel volunteer fireman, work on wiring. (Photo by John Nesbitt)

SUN POWER—The Mahoosuc Kids afterschool program sponsored a Solar Sprint program at Telstar Middle School this spring. The students were required to design and build a solar-powered racecar that could carry an empty soda can and travel 60 feet. Using balsa wood and a solar panel, they designed, tested and raced their cars. Here (from left), Zach Hatstat, Paul Saucier and Michael MacKnight race in a qualifying competition held at Telstar. The winner, MacKnight, was invited to go to the State Solar Sprint Competition, held June 5 at the Owl's Head Transportation Museum. More than 45 cars from schools across the state participated. MacKnight won in the preliminary competitions and took second in the quarterfinals heats. (Photo by Dirk MacKnight)

ALTERNATIVE TO GASOLINE? Erik Hermann, who works for the Greater Portland Council of Governments and is Coordinator of the Kids and Transportation Program, visited two of Telstar's chemistry classes to talk about the evolution of transportation. He brought with him a model of a fuel cell car that runs on hydrogen and produces water as its only byproduct.

MARINE ENGINEERING Second graders at the Crescent Park Elementary School built water vessels in an at-home science challenge that was part of a study of motion. The vessels were tested to see how much cargo they would hold. Here, Sam Wheeler's craft held a cargo of rocks that weighed 8 pounds, 10 ounces.

A MULTIPODAL INSECT AND A TWO-FOOTED HAND were among the participants in the Sculpture Race that took place Sunday on the Bethel common. The race included a "Hungry Caterpillar" entry designed by Jim Sysko, and "Hand" designed by Sally Taylor. Taylor also provided the foot power for her entry, while her son, Andrew Rollinson, provided the guiding 'eyes.' The caterpillar was recognized as the most aesthetically pleasing and the hand as the most humorous. A "Sun and Moon" entry by Joe Bailey was the fastest, and "Dragonfly Kids" (with the Goldberg family and helpers) was recognized as a children's entry. The second phase of the day's events, the Midsummer Festival, drew more than twice the number of people it did last year, according to Taylor. (Photos by Alison Aloisio)
